DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Claims 1-6, 10, 12, 14-18, 20 and 23-25 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Molina. Applicant argues essentially that Molina does not teach resynchronization. This is not deemed to be persuasive. Since Molina is used for ventricular defibrillation, treatment with that device would provide resynchronization of contraction of the ventricles and the atria. Even though applicant's intended resynchronization may be different from defibrillation, absent any specifics in the claim to differentiate the two, the term "resynchronization" is still met by defibrillation in the broadest sense.

Claims 1-10, 12-14, 17-22, 24 and 25 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly by Knisley. Again with respect to Knisley, Applicant argues that there is no resynchronization taught, however since Knisley provides for atrial fibrillation treatment, resynchronization of the atrial and ventricular contractions would be effected. As such, Knisley too meets the broadest interpretation of the term "resynchronization".

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
